FROM OUR PUBLISHER

HawaiiBusiness magazine

Aloha,

Welcome to Hawaii Business Magazine's 9th annual Leadership Conference. We are thrilled to be back with you – in person – at the Hilton Hawaiian Village! We hope you take every opportunity to re-connect with each other throughout the day. For those of you who cannot be here with us today, we are pleased to offer you opportunities to engage virtually through our live-streamed and recorded sessions.

The theme of this year's conference is "Future-Ready." One definition of a future-ready leader is a leader who possesses the business acumen to adapt to new situations, the empathy to support the well-being of their colleagues and the awareness to build an inclusive culture. As you look through the conference agenda you will see that the sessions have been designed to inform, educate and inspire in all these areas, beginning with a keynote by nationally renowned futurist Richard Yonck. We also offer sessions focused on critical issues like climate repair and our local economy.

Thank you very much to all the speakers and panelists who are giving so generously of their time and expertise to help all of us expand and improve our leadership skills.

The Leadership Conference was created in partnership with First Hawaiian Bank 9 years ago. Their support is significant, and we are deeply grateful for their steadfast commitment to this conference and to the growth of talented, resilient, visionary leadership in our community. I would also like to thank our supporting sponsors: Alaska Airlines, Anthology Group, Carlsmith Ball LLP, Hawaiian Telcom, Hawaii Dental Service, Hawaii News Now, Kamehameha Schools, Matson, and St. Andrew's Schools. The Leadership Conference would not be possible without their partnership.

On behalf of the entire Hawaii Business Magazine team: mahalo for attending this year. We are excited about being with you again in person. This day is about YOU – we hope you make it a great one!

Mahalo,

Cheryl Oncea,

PUBLISHER, HAWAII BUSINESS MAGAZINE

FROM FIRST HAWAIIAN BANK

First Hawaiian Bank.

Aloha!

We are thrilled to partner with Hawaii Business Magazine for the ninth year to host the state's preeminent professional development and networking event for leaders. Today is especially meaningful as we welcome everyone back in-person to reconnect with colleagues, partners, and friends.

The world has experienced sweeping changes since the last Leadership Conference. Today's lineup of speakers and panel discussions will provide valuable insight about the current landscape of Hawai'i's top industries as we continue to emerge from the uncertainty of the past two years.

People are the single most important resource for our businesses, and I have been inspired to see how our team at First Hawaiian Bank and other organizations across the globe have stepped up to face the different challenges brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic. They demonstrated solid leadership skills, many of which are fostered at conferences like this one, which is why we value and support these opportunities for growth.

It will take a collective effort to architect a new era of how we do business. Whether you are joining us at the Hilton Hawaiian Village or virtually, we appreciate your willingness to learn and engage on a path forward. We are in an exciting time for strategic innovation and we hope today's discussions and the connections you make ignite curiosity, inspiration and cross-sector collaboration.

Mahalo,

Bob Harrison

CHAIRMAN, PRESIDENT & CEO

FROM OUR GOLD SPONSORS

At Alaska Airlines, we know that great service begins with great employees. We hire people whose values align with our own—they do the right thing, are kind-hearted, deliver on performance and are remarkable. Beyond hiring exceptional people, we look for opportunities to provide them with the skills, development and training needed to deliver exceptional service. Our diverse, talented, and dedicated employees are the backbone of our organization, embracing care wherever and whenever they can to contribute to Alaska's purpose: creating an airline people love.

This is why we are so proud to help cultivate Hawai'i's emerging leaders by supporting this annual conference and welcoming our very own Jen Keller, managing director of talent acquisition, to today's outstanding line-up of speakers. Mahalo to Hawaii Business for making this event possible—we look forward to an inspiring day.

Aloha,

Carlsmith Ball is proud to be a sponsor of the 9th annual Leadership Conference.

As leaders, we are confronted with the present, but must also look to the future. Success requires a willingness to embrace change. Change is inevitable and, while sometimes unsettling and disruptive, it presents new directions and opportunities for growth and improvement.

In Carlsmith Ball's 165-year history, we've challenged ourselves to adapt, innovate and succeed. And, with an eye to the future, we remain mindful of the foundations that were laid down for us as an organization.

Now, more than ever, your leadership, energy and ideas are needed. During the conference, I encourage you to think openly. Together, there are opportunities for our organizations and the larger community to which we belong.

Mahalo for joining us.

[ANTHOLOGY®]

A FINN Partners Company

Anthology Marketing Group is proud to sponsor Hawaii Business Magazine's 2022

Leadership Conference. This year's theme of "Future-Ready" could not be more relevant, as our national and global economy swings from pandemic recovery to the threat of recession, and our local economy deals with its own unique challenges for businesses, workers, and communities.

Anthology also partners with Hawaii Business for the semi-annual BOSS Survey that tracks the outlook and sentiment of more than 400 local business owners and executives, and the 808 Poll which provides a resident point-of-view on many of the same topics. These scientific surveys provide valuable insights for our business community, and are shared in the print and online editions of Hawaii Business.

We hope this conference will provide insights, tools, and relationships to help your company move into the future with greater confidence and continued success.

—DENNIS CHRISTIANSON, MANAGING PARTNER

As Hawai'i's largest multimedia organization, we are committed to serving and connecting our community. Hawaii News Now understands the importance of supporting and growing strong, local leaders. We are a tightknit community in Hawai'i, and leaders at all levels are crucial in facing our challenges with innovation while protecting our unique culture and history.

The past couple of years have tested all of us in ways we never could have imagined. However, we also saw how actions of compassionate, innovative, and forward-thinking leadership by persons from all facets of our community were crucial in pulling us through challenging times, and in many ways, making Hawai'i stronger.

Hawaii News Now is proud to support Hawaii Business's Leadership Conference and embraces the opportunity to help grow future-ready local leaders.

—KATIE PICKMAN, GENERAL MANAGER, HAWAII NEWS NOW

FROM OUR GOLD SPONSORS

This year Matson celebrated its 140th anniversary. Being future-ready and flexible helped us develop into who we are today, a leader in Pacific shipping dedicated to Hawai'i service.

Matson has been one of the world's most innovative ocean carriers from its inception. Some of our industry-firsts include electric lights, refrigerated storage, and containerization. We've been fortunate to have employees inspired to answer questions we haven't asked and seek solutions to tomorrow's issues.

Today, you're in a position to learn how the best in Hawai'i business adapt and strategize for the uncharted waters ahead. Embrace the sparks of ingenuity that this year's Leadership Conference ignites, and may your resourcefulness, imagination, and ties to the business community serve you well!

FROM OUR STUDENT AND SILVER SPONSORS

ST. ANDREW'S SCHOOLS
THE PRINCE • THE PRINCESS • THE PRINCETON

Aloha,

One of the hallmarks of a St. Andrew's education is our focus on developing courageous and compassionate leaders. We help our students recognize that they can have an impact on their community – not just in the future, but today.

Our teachers guide our students to ask deep questions, engage in respectful discussions to understand complex topics, and create plans of positive action that address real issues in our local and global communities.

Helping every student succeed makes all the difference – for all of us. St. Andrew's Schools is proud to partner with Hawaii Business Magazine to bring important conversations to the forefront at the Leadership Conference.

Thank you for joining us.

RUTH R. FLETCHER, PH.D., PRESIDENT AND HEAD OF SCHOOL, ST. ANDREW'S SCHOOLS

Hawaiian Telcom

Aloha!

Welcome to the 9th Annual Hawaii Business Leadership Conference. We are proud to sponsor this inspiring event and are excited for the opportunity to reconnect in person, to learn from each other, and to imagine new possibilities together.

Continuing to expand our fiber broadband infrastructure is one of the ways Hawaiian Telcom helps to keep Hawai'i connected and future-ready. Every day we see firsthand how broadband makes a positive difference in our communities by improving access to information, education, and opportunities for business, development and growth.

All who are fortunate to call Hawai'i our home share a dream to make this unique island state a better place to live, work and play, now and for future generations. May the knowledge you gain and the relationships you create today help you to continue shaping our future so we can make that dream a reality.

—SU SHIN, PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER, HAWAIIAN TELCOM

Hawaii Dental Service is a proud sponsor of the Hawaii Business Leadership Conference.

As we celebrate 60 years of healthy smiles and local roots here in Hawai'i, we look forward to creating a greater impact on the business community as well as the underserved populations. We challenge our current and upcoming leaders to build transformative initiatives that address gaps in care and positive health outcomes for Hawai'i families so they can Live Well, Smile More.

Kamehameha Schools

Kamehameha 'Ekahi's prowess in battle and diplomacy was legendary. His charisma rallied the citizenry to accomplish civic projects that were magnificent feats of engineering. He could be found knee-deep in mud laboring quietly alongside his people, and in crisis, he relied on the wise counsel of advisors. He protected the vulnerable, forgave offenders, and sought forgiveness for his transgressions. Inspired by Hawai'i's own world-class leader, we commend Hawaii Business for continuing to nurture the growth of leaders in Hawai'i, for Hawai'i.

MORNING SESSION I

Retaining Employees: How to Manage the Revolving Door

10:15 - 11:15 A.M. | CORAL I

Hawai'i isn't immune to the Great Resignation and Reshuffling. In 2021, more than 222,000 local employees quit their jobs. That's 63,000 more than in 2020 and 27,000 more than in 2019. In a tight labor market, losing good people can be a disaster. Here, a panel of HR experts will share strategies on how to attract talent, boost retention and better manage employee turnover.

A top priority for her is making sure their customers feel heard and appreciated.

Shaun Peck

CO-FOUNDER,
PARADISE CIDERS

Kasey Sulheim and Shawn Peck are the co-founders of Paradise Ciders, Hawai'i's first cider company. Sulheim and Peck met when they were both working as bartenders in Waikiki. Together, they started Paradise Ciders in 2017, selling to restaurants and bars before opening their own tasting room in 2018. Legions of local drinkers, including some who won't order beer, welcomed the new options appearing on tap across town with twists on apple cider reflecting the bounty of locally grown farms: liliko'i, mango, guava, pineapple, ginger, lychee.

Peck, born and raised in Hawai'i Kai, and Sulheim, a transplant from Minnesota living here since 2003, had already been homebrewing beer together for fun. In 2015, they wrote out a business plan, located a warehouse, ordered the equipment, filed the liquor licenses for local and federal approval (this process alone took nine months) and finally started producing commercially available cider in January of 2017. All without taking on investors.

CO-FOUNDER,
PARADISE CIDERS

Anne Namba

OWNER & DESIGNER,
ANNE NAMBA DESIGNS

Anne Yuri Namba was born in Hawai'i, but spent much of her youth in Bangkok, Thailand and Tehran, Iran. After finishing her studies at University of Hawai'i, Anne graduated from the prestigious Fashion Institute of Technology in New York and worked in the costume department at Radio City Music Hall. Anne returned home and spent a year working for Malahini Hawaii, one of the state's largest garment manufacturers. While working out of her parents' home, Anne started designing her own line of one-of-a-kind garments made from vintage Japanese kimonos and obis. Her collections have appeared in Bergdorf-Goodman, Macy's West, the Saks Fifth Avenue Folio Catalog, Nordstrom, Liberty House, and I. Magnin Stores.

MORNING SESSION II

The Art and Science of Negotiation

11:30 A.M. - 12:30 P.M. | CORAL I

Successful negotiation is often considered an art form, but it's also an expertise that can be developed with practice. Columbia Business School professor Malia Mason will lead participants through an interactive, role-play exercise that sharpens your bargaining expertise. Attendees will learn how to:

- Develop a framework for thinking about and preparing for deal making
- Steer clear of the pitfalls that plague most bargainers
- Strategies to increase the "pie" and negotiate value-creating deals.
- Identify their strengths as negotiators and work on weaknesses.
- Experiment with different techniques and explore what works and doesn't work for them.
