Brett is a dedicated Real Estate Agent, with a unique approach to real estate. As a former Manager in the Honolulu Advisory Services practice at Ernst & Young, he has the strategic negotiation skills necessary to set him apart in the industry. His “advisory over sales” approach focuses on deep market analysis and truly putting his clients’ best interest in mind. He understands how technical real estate in Hawai‘i can be and is passionate about managing risk through engagement with other professionals (i.e. geotechnical engineers, attorneys, subject matter experts, etc.). He strongly believes that technology will continue to change the real estate industry and is passionate about implementing innovative marketing strategies to leverage this.

Brett and his team have consistently ranked as top performers in Hawai‘i, which includes ranking as a high producer in the nationwide Better Homes & Gardens Real Estate national network. However, Brett is most proud of his client service awards. He has been awarded Honolulu Magazine’s Best in Real Estate for over 10 years, which is based on personal recommendations for customer service and satisfaction. Additionally, he is the winner of the Honolulu Board of Realtors Aloha ‘Aina REALTOR® Winner, which is awarded to REALTORS who have gone above and beyond in service to their clients and who maintain the highest ethical standards.

Finally, Brett is a proud community supporter as an Aloha United Way (AUW) Society of Young Leader’s Board Member, former AUW Board Member, Advantage Kokua Scholarship Board Member, and Child & Family Service Guild Member. During his free time, Brett enjoys spending time with family, hiking, paddling, trying new restaurants, watching rugby, and traveling.

Aloha! I can’t express enough gratitude to my family, friends, and clients for their continued trust and support! I’m inspired that people appreciate an “advisory over sales” approach and am passionate about helping families talk about their longer term goals and plans for real estate. I feel blessed that this industry has allowed me to have so many meaningful conversations and build long-term relationships. I’d also like to acknowledge all of the support from my BHGRE Advantage Realty Ohana. We are truly trying to push real estate to the next level! –BRETT
