Big Island Real Estate with Heart

For over eleven years, Sonja Schmidt has served Hawai'i Island with integrity, care, and a sharp eye for detail. Known for going above and beyond, she strives to make each real estate journey smooth and stress-free—whether helping first-time buyers, investors, or those relocating to or from paradise.

Sonja is a graduate of the University of California and holds a Master's in Education from Western Washington University. Before real estate, she was an award-winning teacher in Alaska and a small business owner/publisher for 14 years. She serves her community through leadership and active roles in nonprofits.

Clients appreciate her professionalism, warmth, and commitment to their goals. A lifelong learner, Sonja has earned numerous real estate certifications to better serve her clients.

When not working, she enjoys time with her labradoodles, swimming, creating art, and connecting with friends and family—living the island lifestyle she helps others discover every day.
